

For Immediate Release

Moyo Group is Now KalioTek™

Name change and re-branding position company for the next phase of growth.

Cupertino, CA,— September 19, 2011 — Moyo Group, a leading Bay Area IT services firm and division of Kalio[™], Inc., today announced it has changed its name to KalioTek. The change is a step in expanding the scope and reach of its services to a nationwide market. KalioTek continues to be headquartered in Cupertino, CA and co-located with the headquarters of Kalio, Inc.

According to Mark Richards, President of KalioTek and COO of Kalio, Inc., “We have already begun to see the benefits of serving an expanded market with similar needs through leveraging a larger team and extended marketing reach. This gives us more resources to provide value to our long-term clients. We also gain a larger client base from which we can increase our expertise and best practices in the evolving world of cloud computing.”

The newly named KalioTek will continue to deliver its world-class IT support and project services that include managing secure on-premise and “cloud” environments, IT project management, IT security consulting and integration services. KalioTek’s infrastructure, cloud, and security services are now described in detail on the new KalioTek website.

Kalio CEO and Chairman, Jonathan Lee, said, “We’ve taken an important step in extending the customer-acclaimed services of Moyo Group to Kalio’s nationwide customer base of online retailers. These companies have the same IT challenges as other emerging and mid-size technology companies, as they are highly dependent on IT expertise and are embracing cloud computing throughout their organizations.”

About KalioTek

For over two decades the KalioTek team has served hundreds of technology, ecommerce, life sciences, and services companies in northern California, and has now expanded its offers nationwide through our east coast office. We specialize in right-sized solutions for emerging and midsize companies, with a full team of technical experts to address our customers' challenging requirements in technologies such as networking, systems, storage, security, data centers, and related operating processes. We are known for our commitment to client satisfaction and our trusted relationships with a broad network of industry professionals who recommend our services. KalioTek has offices in Cupertino, CA and in the Greater Cincinnati area. To learn more, visit www.KalioTek.com or call 408-550-8000.

###

For more information:
Emmanuel de Boucaud, EVP Sales and Marketing
408-550-8067
edeboucaud@kalioinc.com